Work for the global world market leader!

We are the only company in the world to specialize in the development, assembly and logistics of complex front-end modules. HBPO was formed in 2004 as a joint venture of the three automotive suppliers Hella, Mahle (formerly Behr) and Plastic Omnium and evolved from Hella-Behr Fahrzeug-Systeme GmbH, which was founded in 1999.

As the global market leader, we will continue to set new standards in the market in the future. Our research and development and the central project management departments are based at our company headquarters in Lippstadt, Germany. HBPO employs 2,400 employees worldwide and produces about 5.3 million front-end modules per year.

Always in front!
